

10 RAG FAQ 200 Questions

India-focused synthetic enterprise reference policy | Version 1.0 | Effective 01 January 2026

PROVENANCE: This is a synthetic reference implementation created for RAG development. It is not an actual company policy. Production use requires replacement with the adopting company's approved policy, limits, grades and approval matrix.

13. RAG Grounding & Metadata

Retrieval rules

Every answer should be grounded in a policy section and effective date. The agent should return the relevant rule, condition, documentation requirement and approval requirement.

When multiple rules apply, the more specific rule controls the general rule, subject to effective date and employee/destination metadata.

If the policy does not specify a limit, the agent must say that the policy does not specify the amount rather than inventing one.

Recommended chunk metadata tenant_id, company, country, policy_id, policy_version, effective_from, effective_to, section, category, subcategory, expense_type, employee_grade, destination_city, domestic_international, approval_required, receipt_required, source_document.

Keep section headings with every chunk. Do not mix different companies' limits in one tenant.

Answer format

A strong answer should state eligibility, limit/condition, required documentation, approval requirement and policy reference.

For ambiguous questions, ask for the missing fact such as destination, employee grade, travel dates, domestic/international status or expense type.

RAG Evaluation Q&A

1. Q: Can I book an economy flight for a domestic business trip for domestic travel?

A: Yes. Economy is the standard domestic cabin unless an approved exception applies.

2. Q: Can I claim an airline cancellation replacement ticket for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when the cancellation is outside the employee's control and the replacement is necessary for approved business travel.

3. Q: Can I claim extra baggage for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when required for business equipment, samples, documents or other approved materials.

4. Q: Can I claim a preferred seat for domestic travel?

A: Only when permitted by the applicable rule or required for business/accessibility reasons.

5. Q: Can I claim airport lounge access for domestic travel?

A: Only when included in an eligible fare/program or expressly approved.

6. Q: Can I book a five-star hotel for domestic travel?

A: Only when within the applicable limit or when an approved exception applies.

7. Q: Is hotel breakfast reimbursable for domestic travel?

A: Included breakfast is part of an eligible room rate; separately purchased breakfast follows meal rules.

8. Q: Can I claim Uber or Ola for domestic travel?

A: Yes, reasonable app-based taxi travel for approved business purposes is reimbursable subject to documentation.

9. Q: Can I claim a rental car for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when practical or economical for the business need and compliant with approval rules.

10. Q: Can I claim fuel for a rental car for domestic travel?

A: Yes, for approved business travel and with supporting receipts.

11. Q: Can I claim toll charges for domestic travel?

A: Yes, for business travel, subject to documentation.

12. Q: Can I claim parking for domestic travel?

A: Yes, for approved business travel; fines and penalties are excluded.

13. Q: Can I claim visa fees for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when the visa is required for approved business travel.

14. Q: Can I claim international roaming for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when needed for business and not already covered by the corporate plan.

15. Q: Can I claim hotel Wi-Fi for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when required for business and not included in the room rate.

16. Q: Can I claim a client dinner for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when there is a genuine business purpose and required documentation/approvals.

17. Q: Can I claim alcohol at a client dinner for domestic travel?

A: Not as a personal meal expense; any business entertainment treatment must follow applicable compliance rules.

18. Q: How soon should I submit my expense report for domestic travel?

A: Normally within 15 calendar days after the trip, subject to the controlled finance deadline.

19. Q: What if I lose my receipt for domestic travel?

A: Use the missing-receipt process and provide the required declaration and explanation.

20. Q: Can I extend my business trip for vacation for domestic travel?

A: Yes only if permitted and the company bears no additional cost caused by the personal extension.

21. Q: Can I claim the extra hotel nights during my vacation extension for domestic travel?

A: No. Personal extension nights are the employee's responsibility.

22. Q: Can I use my personal car for business for domestic travel?

A: Yes when approved, using the applicable mileage or actual-cost method, but not both.

23. Q: Can I claim home-to-office travel for domestic travel?

A: No. Ordinary commuting is not business travel.

24. Q: What if my flight is delayed overnight for domestic travel?

A: Reasonable additional accommodation and meals may be reimbursable when caused by the disruption and not provided by the airline.

25. Q: Can I claim foreign exchange fees for domestic travel?

A: Reasonable fees directly caused by approved business travel may be reimbursable.

26. Q: Can I claim passport fees for domestic travel?

A: General passport issuance is normally personal; business-required visa and processing costs may be reimbursable.

27. Q: Who approves an exception for domestic travel?

A: The applicable approval matrix determines the required authority.

28. Q: Does manager approval make a prohibited expense reimbursable for domestic travel?

A: No. Both policy eligibility and required approval must be satisfied.

29. Q: Can I claim a hotel no-show fee for domestic travel?

A: Only when it results from a documented business change or other covered circumstance.

30. Q: Can I claim laundry for domestic travel?

A: It may be reimbursable for eligible extended or international travel according to the applicable rule.

31. Q: Can I claim a personal hotel upgrade for domestic travel?

A: No, unless required for business or specifically approved.

32. Q: Can I claim a business SIM card abroad for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when necessary for approved international business travel and properly documented.

33. Q: Can I claim conference registration for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when the conference is approved business travel and registration is authorized.

34. Q: Can I claim train travel instead of a flight for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when rail is practical, safe and cost-effective and the eligible class is used.

35. Q: Can I claim premium economy for domestic travel?

A: Only when the employee grade or approved exception permits it.

36. Q: Can I claim a flexible airfare for domestic travel?

A: Yes, when itinerary uncertainty justifies the additional cost and the fare is approved.

37. Q: Can I claim personal entertainment for domestic travel?

A: No. Leisure and personal entertainment are excluded.

38. Q: Can I claim tips for domestic travel?

A: Reasonable customary tips may be reimbursed where permitted and documented.

39. Q: Can I claim the same expense twice for domestic travel?

A: No. Duplicate claims are prohibited.

40. Q: What should I do if an airline cancels my flight for domestic travel?

A: Obtain the airline's cancellation evidence, use reasonable replacement transport and retain all related documents.

41. Q: Can I book an economy flight for a domestic business trip for international travel?

A: Yes. Economy is the standard domestic cabin unless an approved exception applies.

42. Q: Can I claim an airline cancellation replacement ticket for international travel?

A: Yes, when the cancellation is outside the employee's control and the replacement is necessary for approved business travel.

43. Q: Can I claim extra baggage for international travel?

A: Yes, when required for business equipment, samples, documents or other approved materials.

44. Q: Can I claim a preferred seat for international travel?

A: Only when permitted by the applicable rule or required for business/accessibility reasons.

45. Q: Can I claim airport lounge access for international travel?

A: Only when included in an eligible fare/program or expressly approved.

46. Q: Can I book a five-star hotel for international travel?

A: Only when within the applicable limit or when an approved exception applies.

47. Q: Is hotel breakfast reimbursable for international travel?

A: Included breakfast is part of an eligible room rate; separately purchased breakfast follows meal rules.

48. Q: Can I claim Uber or Ola for international travel?

A: Yes, reasonable app-based taxi travel for approved business purposes is reimbursable subject to documentation.

49. Q: Can I claim a rental car for international travel?

A: Yes, when practical or economical for the business need and compliant with approval rules.

50. Q: Can I claim fuel for a rental car for international travel?

A: Yes, for approved business travel and with supporting receipts.

51. Q: Can I claim toll charges for international travel?

A: Yes, for business travel, subject to documentation.

52. Q: Can I claim parking for international travel?

A: Yes, for approved business travel; fines and penalties are excluded.

53. Q: Can I claim visa fees for international travel?

A: Yes, when the visa is required for approved business travel.

54. Q: Can I claim international roaming for international travel?

A: Yes, when needed for business and not already covered by the corporate plan.

55. Q: Can I claim hotel Wi-Fi for international travel?

A: Yes, when required for business and not included in the room rate.

56. Q: Can I claim a client dinner for international travel?

A: Yes, when there is a genuine business purpose and required documentation/approvals.

57. Q: Can I claim alcohol at a client dinner for international travel?

A: Not as a personal meal expense; any business entertainment treatment must follow applicable compliance rules.

58. Q: How soon should I submit my expense report for international travel?

A: Normally within 15 calendar days after the trip, subject to the controlled finance deadline.

59. Q: What if I lose my receipt for international travel?

A: Use the missing-receipt process and provide the required declaration and explanation.

60. Q: Can I extend my business trip for vacation for international travel?

A: Yes only if permitted and the company bears no additional cost caused by the personal extension.

61. Q: Can I claim the extra hotel nights during my vacation extension for international travel?

A: No. Personal extension nights are the employee's responsibility.

62. Q: Can I use my personal car for business for international travel?

A: Yes when approved, using the applicable mileage or actual-cost method, but not both.

63. Q: Can I claim home-to-office travel for international travel?

A: No. Ordinary commuting is not business travel.

64. Q: What if my flight is delayed overnight for international travel?

A: Reasonable additional accommodation and meals may be reimbursable when caused by the disruption and not provided by the airline.

65. Q: Can I claim foreign exchange fees for international travel?

A: Reasonable fees directly caused by approved business travel may be reimbursable.

66. Q: Can I claim passport fees for international travel?

A: General passport issuance is normally personal; business-required visa and processing costs may be reimbursable.

67. Q: Who approves an exception for international travel?

A: The applicable approval matrix determines the required authority.

68. Q: Does manager approval make a prohibited expense reimbursable for international travel?

A: No. Both policy eligibility and required approval must be satisfied.

69. Q: Can I claim a hotel no-show fee for international travel?

A: Only when it results from a documented business change or other covered circumstance.

70. Q: Can I claim laundry for international travel?

A: It may be reimbursable for eligible extended or international travel according to the applicable rule.

71. Q: Can I claim a personal hotel upgrade for international travel?

A: No, unless required for business or specifically approved.

72. Q: Can I claim a business SIM card abroad for international travel?

A: Yes, when necessary for approved international business travel and properly documented.

73. Q: Can I claim conference registration for international travel?

A: Yes, when the conference is approved business travel and registration is authorized.

74. Q: Can I claim train travel instead of a flight for international travel?

A: Yes, when rail is practical, safe and cost-effective and the eligible class is used.

75. Q: Can I claim premium economy for international travel?

A: Only when the employee grade or approved exception permits it.

76. Q: Can I claim a flexible airfare for international travel?

A: Yes, when itinerary uncertainty justifies the additional cost and the fare is approved.

77. Q: Can I claim personal entertainment for international travel?

A: No. Leisure and personal entertainment are excluded.

78. Q: Can I claim tips for international travel?

A: Reasonable customary tips may be reimbursed where permitted and documented.

79. Q: Can I claim the same expense twice for international travel?

A: No. Duplicate claims are prohibited.

80. Q: What should I do if an airline cancels my flight for international travel?

A: Obtain the airline's cancellation evidence, use reasonable replacement transport and retain all related documents.

81. Q: Can I book an economy flight for a domestic business trip for a customer meeting?

A: Yes. Economy is the standard domestic cabin unless an approved exception applies.

82. Q: Can I claim an airline cancellation replacement ticket for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when the cancellation is outside the employee's control and the replacement is necessary for approved business travel.

83. Q: Can I claim extra baggage for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when required for business equipment, samples, documents or other approved materials.

84. Q: Can I claim a preferred seat for a customer meeting?

A: Only when permitted by the applicable rule or required for business/accessibility reasons.

85. Q: Can I claim airport lounge access for a customer meeting?

A: Only when included in an eligible fare/program or expressly approved.

86. Q: Can I book a five-star hotel for a customer meeting?

A: Only when within the applicable limit or when an approved exception applies.

87. Q: Is hotel breakfast reimbursable for a customer meeting?

A: Included breakfast is part of an eligible room rate; separately purchased breakfast follows meal rules.

88. Q: Can I claim Uber or Ola for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, reasonable app-based taxi travel for approved business purposes is reimbursable subject to documentation.

89. Q: Can I claim a rental car for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when practical or economical for the business need and compliant with approval rules.

90. Q: Can I claim fuel for a rental car for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, for approved business travel and with supporting receipts.

91. Q: Can I claim toll charges for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, for business travel, subject to documentation.

92. Q: Can I claim parking for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, for approved business travel; fines and penalties are excluded.

93. Q: Can I claim visa fees for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when the visa is required for approved business travel.

94. Q: Can I claim international roaming for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when needed for business and not already covered by the corporate plan.

95. Q: Can I claim hotel Wi-Fi for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when required for business and not included in the room rate.

96. Q: Can I claim a client dinner for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when there is a genuine business purpose and required documentation/approvals.

97. Q: Can I claim alcohol at a client dinner for a customer meeting?

A: Not as a personal meal expense; any business entertainment treatment must follow applicable compliance rules.

98. Q: How soon should I submit my expense report for a customer meeting?

A: Normally within 15 calendar days after the trip, subject to the controlled finance deadline.

99. Q: What if I lose my receipt for a customer meeting?

A: Use the missing-receipt process and provide the required declaration and explanation.

100. Q: Can I extend my business trip for vacation for a customer meeting?

A: Yes only if permitted and the company bears no additional cost caused by the personal extension.

101. Q: Can I claim the extra hotel nights during my vacation extension for a customer meeting?

A: No. Personal extension nights are the employee's responsibility.

102. Q: Can I use my personal car for business for a customer meeting?

A: Yes when approved, using the applicable mileage or actual-cost method, but not both.

103. Q: Can I claim home-to-office travel for a customer meeting?

A: No. Ordinary commuting is not business travel.

104. Q: What if my flight is delayed overnight for a customer meeting?

A: Reasonable additional accommodation and meals may be reimbursable when caused by the disruption and not provided by the airline.

105. Q: Can I claim foreign exchange fees for a customer meeting?

A: Reasonable fees directly caused by approved business travel may be reimbursable.

106. Q: Can I claim passport fees for a customer meeting?

A: General passport issuance is normally personal; business-required visa and processing costs may be reimbursable.

107. Q: Who approves an exception for a customer meeting?

A: The applicable approval matrix determines the required authority.

108. Q: Does manager approval make a prohibited expense reimbursable for a customer meeting?

A: No. Both policy eligibility and required approval must be satisfied.

109. Q: Can I claim a hotel no-show fee for a customer meeting?

A: Only when it results from a documented business change or other covered circumstance.

110. Q: Can I claim laundry for a customer meeting?

A: It may be reimbursable for eligible extended or international travel according to the applicable rule.

111. Q: Can I claim a personal hotel upgrade for a customer meeting?

A: No, unless required for business or specifically approved.

112. Q: Can I claim a business SIM card abroad for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when necessary for approved international business travel and properly documented.

113. Q: Can I claim conference registration for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when the conference is approved business travel and registration is authorized.

114. Q: Can I claim train travel instead of a flight for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when rail is practical, safe and cost-effective and the eligible class is used.

115. Q: Can I claim premium economy for a customer meeting?

A: Only when the employee grade or approved exception permits it.

116. Q: Can I claim a flexible airfare for a customer meeting?

A: Yes, when itinerary uncertainty justifies the additional cost and the fare is approved.

117. Q: Can I claim personal entertainment for a customer meeting?

A: No. Leisure and personal entertainment are excluded.

118. Q: Can I claim tips for a customer meeting?

A: Reasonable customary tips may be reimbursed where permitted and documented.

119. Q: Can I claim the same expense twice for a customer meeting?

A: No. Duplicate claims are prohibited.

120. Q: What should I do if an airline cancels my flight for a customer meeting?

A: Obtain the airline's cancellation evidence, use reasonable replacement transport and retain all related documents.

121. Q: Can I book an economy flight for a domestic business trip after a schedule change?

A: Yes. Economy is the standard domestic cabin unless an approved exception applies.

122. Q: Can I claim an airline cancellation replacement ticket after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when the cancellation is outside the employee's control and the replacement is necessary for approved business travel.

123. Q: Can I claim extra baggage after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when required for business equipment, samples, documents or other approved materials.

124. Q: Can I claim a preferred seat after a schedule change?

A: Only when permitted by the applicable rule or required for business/accessibility reasons.

125. Q: Can I claim airport lounge access after a schedule change?

A: Only when included in an eligible fare/program or expressly approved.

126. Q: Can I book a five-star hotel after a schedule change?

A: Only when within the applicable limit or when an approved exception applies.

127. Q: Is hotel breakfast reimbursable after a schedule change?

A: Included breakfast is part of an eligible room rate; separately purchased breakfast follows meal rules.

128. Q: Can I claim Uber or Ola after a schedule change?

A: Yes, reasonable app-based taxi travel for approved business purposes is reimbursable subject to documentation.

129. Q: Can I claim a rental car after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when practical or economical for the business need and compliant with approval rules.

130. Q: Can I claim fuel for a rental car after a schedule change?

A: Yes, for approved business travel and with supporting receipts.

131. Q: Can I claim toll charges after a schedule change?

A: Yes, for business travel, subject to documentation.

132. Q: Can I claim parking after a schedule change?

A: Yes, for approved business travel; fines and penalties are excluded.

133. Q: Can I claim visa fees after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when the visa is required for approved business travel.

134. Q: Can I claim international roaming after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when needed for business and not already covered by the corporate plan.

135. Q: Can I claim hotel Wi-Fi after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when required for business and not included in the room rate.

136. Q: Can I claim a client dinner after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when there is a genuine business purpose and required documentation/approvals.

137. Q: Can I claim alcohol at a client dinner after a schedule change?

A: Not as a personal meal expense; any business entertainment treatment must follow applicable compliance rules.

138. Q: How soon should I submit my expense report after a schedule change?

A: Normally within 15 calendar days after the trip, subject to the controlled finance deadline.

139. Q: What if I lose my receipt after a schedule change?

A: Use the missing-receipt process and provide the required declaration and explanation.

140. Q: Can I extend my business trip for vacation after a schedule change?

A: Yes only if permitted and the company bears no additional cost caused by the personal extension.

141. Q: Can I claim the extra hotel nights during my vacation extension after a schedule change?

A: No. Personal extension nights are the employee's responsibility.

142. Q: Can I use my personal car for business after a schedule change?

A: Yes when approved, using the applicable mileage or actual-cost method, but not both.

143. Q: Can I claim home-to-office travel after a schedule change?

A: No. Ordinary commuting is not business travel.

144. Q: What if my flight is delayed overnight after a schedule change?

A: Reasonable additional accommodation and meals may be reimbursable when caused by the disruption and not provided by the airline.

145. Q: Can I claim foreign exchange fees after a schedule change?

A: Reasonable fees directly caused by approved business travel may be reimbursable.

146. Q: Can I claim passport fees after a schedule change?

A: General passport issuance is normally personal; business-required visa and processing costs may be reimbursable.

147. Q: Who approves an exception after a schedule change?

A: The applicable approval matrix determines the required authority.

148. Q: Does manager approval make a prohibited expense reimbursable after a schedule change?

A: No. Both policy eligibility and required approval must be satisfied.

149. Q: Can I claim a hotel no-show fee after a schedule change?

A: Only when it results from a documented business change or other covered circumstance.

150. Q: Can I claim laundry after a schedule change?

A: It may be reimbursable for eligible extended or international travel according to the applicable rule.

151. Q: Can I claim a personal hotel upgrade after a schedule change?

A: No, unless required for business or specifically approved.

152. Q: Can I claim a business SIM card abroad after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when necessary for approved international business travel and properly documented.

153. Q: Can I claim conference registration after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when the conference is approved business travel and registration is authorized.

154. Q: Can I claim train travel instead of a flight after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when rail is practical, safe and cost-effective and the eligible class is used.

155. Q: Can I claim premium economy after a schedule change?

A: Only when the employee grade or approved exception permits it.

156. Q: Can I claim a flexible airfare after a schedule change?

A: Yes, when itinerary uncertainty justifies the additional cost and the fare is approved.

157. Q: Can I claim personal entertainment after a schedule change?

A: No. Leisure and personal entertainment are excluded.

158. Q: Can I claim tips after a schedule change?

A: Reasonable customary tips may be reimbursed where permitted and documented.

159. Q: Can I claim the same expense twice after a schedule change?

A: No. Duplicate claims are prohibited.

160. Q: What should I do if an airline cancels my flight after a schedule change?

A: Obtain the airline's cancellation evidence, use reasonable replacement transport and retain all related documents.

161. Q: Can I book an economy flight for a domestic business trip during an overnight trip?

A: Yes. Economy is the standard domestic cabin unless an approved exception applies.

162. Q: Can I claim an airline cancellation replacement ticket during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when the cancellation is outside the employee's control and the replacement is necessary for approved business travel.

163. Q: Can I claim extra baggage during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when required for business equipment, samples, documents or other approved materials.

164. Q: Can I claim a preferred seat during an overnight trip?

A: Only when permitted by the applicable rule or required for business/accessibility reasons.

165. Q: Can I claim airport lounge access during an overnight trip?

A: Only when included in an eligible fare/program or expressly approved.

166. Q: Can I book a five-star hotel during an overnight trip?

A: Only when within the applicable limit or when an approved exception applies.

167. Q: Is hotel breakfast reimbursable during an overnight trip?

A: Included breakfast is part of an eligible room rate; separately purchased breakfast follows meal rules.

168. Q: Can I claim Uber or Ola during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, reasonable app-based taxi travel for approved business purposes is reimbursable subject to documentation.

169. Q: Can I claim a rental car during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when practical or economical for the business need and compliant with approval rules.

170. Q: Can I claim fuel for a rental car during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, for approved business travel and with supporting receipts.

171. Q: Can I claim toll charges during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, for business travel, subject to documentation.

172. Q: Can I claim parking during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, for approved business travel; fines and penalties are excluded.

173. Q: Can I claim visa fees during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when the visa is required for approved business travel.

174. Q: Can I claim international roaming during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when needed for business and not already covered by the corporate plan.

175. Q: Can I claim hotel Wi-Fi during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when required for business and not included in the room rate.

176. Q: Can I claim a client dinner during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when there is a genuine business purpose and required documentation/approvals.

177. Q: Can I claim alcohol at a client dinner during an overnight trip?

A: Not as a personal meal expense; any business entertainment treatment must follow applicable compliance rules.

178. Q: How soon should I submit my expense report during an overnight trip?

A: Normally within 15 calendar days after the trip, subject to the controlled finance deadline.

179. Q: What if I lose my receipt during an overnight trip?

A: Use the missing-receipt process and provide the required declaration and explanation.

180. Q: Can I extend my business trip for vacation during an overnight trip?

A: Yes only if permitted and the company bears no additional cost caused by the personal extension.

181. Q: Can I claim the extra hotel nights during my vacation extension during an overnight trip?

A: No. Personal extension nights are the employee's responsibility.

182. Q: Can I use my personal car for business during an overnight trip?

A: Yes when approved, using the applicable mileage or actual-cost method, but not both.

183. Q: Can I claim home-to-office travel during an overnight trip?

A: No. Ordinary commuting is not business travel.

184. Q: What if my flight is delayed overnight during an overnight trip?

A: Reasonable additional accommodation and meals may be reimbursable when caused by the disruption and not provided by the airline.

185. Q: Can I claim foreign exchange fees during an overnight trip?

A: Reasonable fees directly caused by approved business travel may be reimbursable.

186. Q: Can I claim passport fees during an overnight trip?

A: General passport issuance is normally personal; business-required visa and processing costs may be reimbursable.

187. Q: Who approves an exception during an overnight trip?

A: The applicable approval matrix determines the required authority.

188. Q: Does manager approval make a prohibited expense reimbursable during an overnight trip?

A: No. Both policy eligibility and required approval must be satisfied.

189. Q: Can I claim a hotel no-show fee during an overnight trip?

A: Only when it results from a documented business change or other covered circumstance.

190. Q: Can I claim laundry during an overnight trip?

A: It may be reimbursable for eligible extended or international travel according to the applicable rule.

191. Q: Can I claim a personal hotel upgrade during an overnight trip?

A: No, unless required for business or specifically approved.

192. Q: Can I claim a business SIM card abroad during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when necessary for approved international business travel and properly documented.

193. Q: Can I claim conference registration during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when the conference is approved business travel and registration is authorized.

194. Q: Can I claim train travel instead of a flight during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when rail is practical, safe and cost-effective and the eligible class is used.

195. Q: Can I claim premium economy during an overnight trip?

A: Only when the employee grade or approved exception permits it.

196. Q: Can I claim a flexible airfare during an overnight trip?

A: Yes, when itinerary uncertainty justifies the additional cost and the fare is approved.

197. Q: Can I claim personal entertainment during an overnight trip?

A: No. Leisure and personal entertainment are excluded.

198. Q: Can I claim tips during an overnight trip?

A: Reasonable customary tips may be reimbursed where permitted and documented.

199. Q: Can I claim the same expense twice during an overnight trip?

A: No. Duplicate claims are prohibited.

200. Q: What should I do if an airline cancels my flight during an overnight trip?

A: Obtain the airline's cancellation evidence, use reasonable replacement transport and retain all related documents.